Boost in Paper
This Year

U.S.-Canadian producers of newsprint—the coarse white paper used by newspapers—raised the delivered price $8 a ton effective April 1 of this year. There is a differential between the East Coast and the Mid-South, so the increase to us was only $7 a ton, moving our paper cost up from $151 per ton to $158.

Now the word in this morning's newspapers is that the largest newsprint producers in America have posted a second $8-per-ton increase to take effect Nov. 1—a total increase nationally since the first of the year of $16 per ton ($15 for this area)—an increase of 10 per cent in less than a year.

This is inflation gone crazy. It begins to look as though newspapers will have to change their subscription prices every year. Advertisers have had advances every year, but subscribers were spared the blow for four or five years at a time.

But subscription prices are tied directly to the cost of paper—and suddenly the sober-minded newsprint market has gone crazy. Formerly I paid $151 a ton for newsprint, but the car received this month cost $158 a ton—and the next car will be priced at $166.

Israel Under Pressure to Open Suez

Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco conferred with Premier Golda Meir and Foreign Minister Abba Eban in Jerusalem today launching a new attempt by the Nixon administration to pressure Israel into an agreement reopening the Suez Canal.

Arab leaders meanwhile gathered in Tripoli, the Libyan capital, to condemn King Hussein of Jordan for his successful crackdown on the Palestinian guerrillas. Tripoli radio reported that the Libyan strongman, Col. Muammar Kadafi, would demand collective military intervention to "prevent Hussein by force from liquidating the Palestine guerrilla movement."

Reliable sources in Jerusalem said Sisco and Eban reviewed American and Israeli policy positions before meeting with Mrs. Meir.

Sisco is likely to meet stiff opposition as he attempts to prod Jerusalem leaders into concessions toward a partial settlement which would reopen the war-block canal.

Fair to Partly Cloudy
Saturday

The cool front that has brought showers to Arkansas for the past several days is moving southeastward out of the state. Fair to partly cloudy skies are forecast through Saturday.

The frontal system is being pushed into the Gulf of Mexico by a high pressure system centered over western Nebraska. Temperatures through the weekend are expected to remain cooler than normal, with highs in the 70s to low 80s. Low should be in the mid 50s to high 60s through Monday.

The chance of showers over the state returns to the forecast for Sunday and Monday, and over the north portion on Tuesday.

A line of thunderstorms formed over northwest Arkansas Thursday night and moved southeastward. The only damage reported concerned some trees blown down in the Horse-shoe Bend area.

Highs over Arkansas Thursday were in the 80s, ranging from 81 at El Dorado to 88 at Fort Smith and Pine Bluff.

Overnight lows around the state include Fayetteville 59, Harrison 58, Jonesboro 64, Pine Bluff 68, Texarkana 70, El Dorado 70, Memphis 68, Little Rock 67 and Fort Smith 61.

Agreement
Near on 2-
Year Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — House-Senate negotiators were reported near agreement today on a two-year draft extension bill calling on President Nixon to set his own date for total U.S. troop withdrawal from Indochina.

But there were conflicting reports on whether they would vote out a compromise eliminating the Senate's nine-month deadline for troop withdrawals.

Senate conferees were understood ready to accept such a compromise weeks ago but not until they had enough votes to cut off a threatened filibuster.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield wrote the amendment for a nine-month war deadline.

Antiwar senators would have to keep a filibuster going only through next week to prevent extension of the draft before September because Congress begins its month-long summer recess next Friday.

The previous draft law expired June 30. House-Senate conferees agreed the following week on all differences except the war pullout amendment.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said special authority to draft from a pool of five million men with expiring draft deferments may have to be used if Congress does not renew the draft by mid-September.

First Notary
Public in Ark.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Miss Paula Seay of Hot Springs has become the first 18-year-old in Arkansas to receive a commission as a notary public.

Miss Seay received her official commission Thursday from Secretary of State Kelly Bryant a few hours after Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr. issued an opinion that said: "It would now appear that an 18-year-old person who is a bona-fide elector can be appointed a notary public in the county in which she is a citizen."

Bryant had requested the opinion from Thornton on whether persons between 18 and 21 who were registered voters could serve as notaries public, in light of the recently adopted amendment to the U.S. Constitution lowering the voting age from 21 to 18.

How to Keep Your Life Alive: Find
New Things to Do

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The best way to keep your life alive is to do new things.

What new things? Well, why not make a list of possibilities as they come to your mind?

Here's one man's list of "things to do next":

Pull the beard of a mountain goat.

Become a corporal and find a marshal's baton in my knapsack.

Rent a fly-it-yourself magic carpet instead of a drive-it-yourself car.

Be a decoy for the FBI in an opium den.

Give my gout to those who think it's funny.

Catch a greased pig at a carnival.

Convince the government it ought to put out a nickel that can't be mistaken for a quarter, or a quarter that can't be mistaken for a nickel.

Put a hex on any politician who proposes a new tax or refuses to vote for the repeal of an old one.

250-Billion Budget
for '72 Shows Nixon
Ignoring Big Deficit

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration tentatively plans to spend about $250 billion in fiscal 1973, a figure in line with its "full-employment-budget" concept.

Sources said that amount is "in the ballpark area" of the total President Nixon wants to put in the budget he will send to Congress early next year.

But officials decline to say whether the spending limit implies another huge actual deficit in government operations.

In the 1971 fiscal year which ended last June 30, the budget deficit was $23.2 billion. The administration, however, defended the red ink by saying the budget was really in surplus by $2.5 billion on a full-employment basis.

In the 1972 fiscal year now under way, the deficit is officially set at $11.6 billion—officially, even higher—but the administration says the government will actually show a small full-employment surplus.

Nixon's full-employment-budget concept sets the level of federal spending at the amount the economy would be expected to produce if there were an unemployment rate of 4 per cent. That concept holds that

Bank Furnaces
for Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Seven of the nation's 10 largest steel companies banked blast furnace fires and slowed production today in preparation for an anticipated industrywide strike that could idle 350,000 employees.

The other three said Thursday that they would maintain normal production schedules until the last moment, hoping for a contract settlement with the United Steelworkers Union before the strike deadline-midnight Saturday.

"We just don't want to put any additional pressure on the bargainers," said a spokesman for a company planning to hold off a shutdown.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest, said coke banking began Thursday at its Gary, Ind., plant, where 27,000 men are employed.

Banking coke ovens usually takes two days, the firm said. At its Pittsburgh district plants, U.S. Steel said it would wait until as "late as possible" Saturday to wind down open hearth operations. Finishing even if the economy is operating below its capacity and revenues fall short, the resulting deficit is not inflationary.

The $250-billion figure is the administration's current estimate of full-employment revenues for the fiscal year that begins July 1, 1972. For the current year, full-employment revenues are $229.2 billion.

The deficit may not be as large as in past budget if the economy picks up, generating more tax revenues through increased business activity and consumer spending, officials say.

Nixon adopted the full-employment-budget concept late last year and in his budget message called it a "self-fulfilling prophecy." By spending as if the nation were at full employment, he said, the budget would generate enough fiscal momentum to help cut the jobless rate to 4 per cent—the level considered full employment.

Strike Closes
Down 6 More
Railroads

By JOHN LINGLE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six more railroads were struck today by the United Transportation Union as industry and labor leaders met at the White House to discuss the economic effects of the spreading walk-out.

The union's latest action brings to 10 the total of struck roads, idling an estimated 120,000 workers.

Roads struck today were the Santa Fe; Alton & Southern; Houston Belt & Terminal, and three steel and iron-ore carriers: Duluth, Mesabi & Iron Range; Bessemer and Lake Erie and the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern.

Nixon announced today's 9 a.m. meeting Thursday evening after talks between the rail industry and the UTU produced no results. The White House cited "increasing economic impact arising from the continuation and expansion of the railroad strike."

The four railroads shut down today employ 43,000.

The UTU struck the Southern and Union Pacific lines two weeks ago. The Southern Pacific and Norfolk & Western were hit last Friday. The four carriers employ 120,000.

Behind Nixon at today's White House session were Secretaries James D. Hodgson of Labor and John A. Volpe of Transportation, Chairman Paul W. McCracken of the Council of Economic Advisers, George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, and Asst. Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr., who has mediated the rail dispute for months.

Effects of the walkouts are being felt nationwide. In Greeley, Colo., the Monfort Packing Co. said it laid off over half its 1,000-man work force because of the strike.

Another 3,000 plywood workers are reported off the job by the American Plywood Association in Seattle. The association said the number could reach over 15,000 by mid-August.

Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia urged whatever steps necessary to end the walkout. "It would be impossible for me to exaggerate the disastrous effects this strike is having on the people of Georgia, our economy and industries," Carter said.

In the state's pulpwood industry alone, he said, the dollar loss is in the millions and a power shortage is threatened by the lack of coal.

Out-of-work miners in six coal states served by the Norfolk & Western Railroad numbered 22,000, and California's produce and fruit producers said they are losing $2.5 million a day to the strike.

Jap Air
Collision
Kills 162

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese jetliner with 162 persons aboard and a Japanese jet fighter collided over northern Japan today and crashed in what appeared to be the worst disaster in aviation history.

The pilot of the F86F fighter parachuted to safety, but the national police said there was little or no hope of any survivors from the Boeing 727 airliner.

The airline, All Nippon Airways, said only one foreigner was aboard the big jet, the American flight engineer, Donn M. Carpenter of Detroit, Mich. He had been flying for the line since February 1970.

By nightfall, the police said 56 bodies had been recovered in a mountainous area about 300 miles northeast of Tokyo.

A piece of the tail section of the plane was found, and the bodies recovered were badly mangled. Shortly after darkness fell, national police said other parts of the airliner, including a piece of the fuselage, had been found.

Search and rescue workers planned to push through the rough terrain throughout the night in the virtually hopeless search for survivors.

The air self-defense force said it had ordered a temporary halt in training flights while the investigations are going on. The airliner was on an afternoon flight from Kokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island, to Tokyo. It had 155 passengers—including a 10-month-old baby—and a crew of seven aboard, the line said.

Most of the passengers were returning from a tour sponsored by the Yoshiwara Bereaved Family Association, composed of relatives of soldiers killed in World War II.

All Nippon Airways said it received an emergency signal from the airliner and then contact was lost.

A military spokesman said the fighter broke into pieces, but the pilot managed to bail out. He was taken to a hospital and was found to be uninjured, the spokesman said.

The pilot of a fighter in the area reported that he saw the two planes plunging toward the earth from an altitude of about 26,000 feet. He said they were trailing smoke and then disappeared.

Officials of the airline said the weather was clear at the time.

Pipeline
Suit May Be Filed

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Pros. Atty. David Hodges of Newport said he was still awaiting further information from federal pipeline safety officials to determine if a charge will be filed in connection with the rupture June 5 of an anhydrous ammonia pipeline in Independence County.

Hodges said Thursday that checks in 10 locations showed the pipeline was buried in accordance with federal safety regulations.

At the rupture point, the 10-inch pipeline was buried about 14 inches. Federal regulations require that the pipeline be buried at least 24 inches.

The pipeline is owned by Gulf Central Pipeline Co. of Chicago.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The body of 6-year-old Jimmy Maxwell of Wrightsville (Pulaski County) was recovered about 1 a.m. today from about 20 feet of water in the Arkansas River about 10 miles south of here.

Authorities said the boy drowned about 6 p.m. Thursday while wading in the river with his 7-year-old brother. The boys' father was able to rescue the older boy but couldn't locate the victim.

Apollo 15 In Pass Over Site Where the Falcon Will LandSpacemen
Poised for
Moon Landing

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — After one abortive separation attempt, two Apollo 15 astronauts successfully cast off their lunar module Falcon from the command ship today and headed for man's riskiest moon landing. Their landing site is a boulder-strewn basin ringed by 15,000-foot mountains and a gaping canyon.

"Good clean sep," Commander David R. Scott reported as the two ships moved apart.

"You're on your own," Alfred M. Worden told Scott and James B. Irwin as they drifted away.

Until the second attempt was successful there was high drama and tension for more than 20 minutes as the two spacecraft circled the moon.

Scott and Irwin first attempted the separation at 1:48 p.m., behind the moon and out of radio contact.

But when they came around the edge of the moon the ships were still locked firmly nose-to-nose.

"Houston, this is Falcon. We did not get a separation," commander Scott announced.

Scott, Irwin and Alfred M. Worden got a preview of what would be ahead when they passed over the mountains ringing the landing site shortly after they fired into lunar orbit Thursday.

Asked by Mission Control if the mountains were craggy or rough, the commander replied: "They appear to be smooth or rounded. But they are cratered and in many places rough in texture. We don't see any jagged peaks."

"They don't look like the Alps, or the Tetons or the San Juans or any other mountains we've seen on earth."

Although the landing site was partially in darkness, they reported they could distinctly see the mile-wide Hadley Rille, a canyon which rims one edge of their landing site.

The goal of Scott and Irwin on their steep descent is to land at lunar dawn within two miles of the mountain front and about one mile from the edge of the 1,200-foot-deep canyon.

Mountains,

Landing Spot

By HOWARD BENEDICT

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 15's moon-circling explorers today beamed to earth a striking televised picture of the mountain-ringed site where they plan to land later in the day and then boosted their spaceship into a slightly higher orbit to help assure a pinpoint touchdown.

As the spaceship zipped within 30,000 feet of the peaks of the Apennine Mountains, television viewers caught a brief glimpse of the rough terrain and knew why David R. Scott and James B. Irwin will be attempting the riskiest landing yet on the lunar surface.

Scott and Irwin prepared to separate the landing ship Falcon for a sharp descent over the 15,000-foot peaks of the Apennines, aiming to land in a small basin hemmed in by the mountains and a gaping canyon.

Touchdown was set for 6:15 p.m. EDT.

During the night the low point of the spaceship orbit had dropped because of lunar gravity from 11.5 to about 8 miles. Mission Control calculated that a higher altitude would be more favorable for the engine ignition that would start Falcon to the surface.

The exact height of the Apennines is not known and the astronauts want to clear the peaks by about 7,000 feet as they come in for the landing.

Officials said this was a consideration in deciding to raise the orbit. So the astronauts fired jet thrusters for 20 seconds to adjust the low point to 11.8 miles.

For 14 minutes, Scott, Irwin and Alfred M. Worden pointed their TV camera out the window as Apollo 15 swooped like a roller coaster from the high point of its orbit, 65 miles, down to about seven miles and then zipped up again. The low point was right over the landing site.

The pass over the landing site at the base of the mountains was brief. They almost missed it as Scott moved the camera from one window to another for a better view.

Scott, Irwin and Worden got their first look at the mountains and a preview of what would be ahead Thursday shortly after they fired into orbit.

Bumpers
Explains
Silence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers told a news conference here Thursday that the comparative silence by himself and his office staff on some matters was planned and was announced 30 days ago at a news conference.

"We did want to keep a low profile here," he said, adding that the decision was based on the belief that he was getting too much exposure in the press in articles of little substance.

The decision, he said, did not mean any plan to bring about a reduction in work or concern for the state.

The public, Bumpers said, is not interested in what a politician says, but in what he does. "I'm not interested in the issues," he said. "The people aren't interested in the issues. I'm just interested in doing the best job I can as governor."

The governor's comments were prompted by questions about charges by former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller that a credibility gap has developed under Bumpers.

Senate in Threat to Cut Military Aid

By JERRY BAULCH
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is seeking to force a limit on executive-branch secrecy with a unanimous vote that could cut off all foreign military aid.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, committee chairman, said Thursday the panel has voted the "cutoff in 35 days unless Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird provides requested information on the aid programs, or President Nixon declares 'he has forbidden that it be furnished and gives his reasons for refusing to do so.'"

The Arkansas Democrat said he has asked Laird for certain aid information several times, but letters to the secretary April 30 and July 12 have gone unanswered.

In a new letter to the defense secretary, Fulbright said: "I had hoped that, in the interests of better relations between the Congress and the executive branch, they would become more cooperative." Fulbright wrote. But under the circumstances, he said, Laird left him no alternative but to "invoke a 1961 law which permits the committee to cut off funds when information is withheld."

The challenge to Laird was "disclosed as a Senate Judiciary subcommittee held hearings on Fulbright's bill to limit use of the executive privilege. Any member of the executive branch refusing to testify before Congress would have to present a letter from the president involving the privilege."

At the hearings, former Secretary of State Dean Rusk and W. Averell Harriman, long-time presidential adviser to Democrats, strongly opposed a second Fulbright bill that would cut off funds of agencies not supplying requested information and not invoking executive privilege.

Rusk said it would "freeze" the government. "I don't like at all the spirit, the atmosphere, and the chain of events that would be set in course," he said.

Harriman said: "I don't like the idea of going at the executive with an ax in advance." Like Rusk, he said Fulbright's bill would create "an antagonistic feeling."

Rusk and Harriman offered somewhat differing views on whether Henry A. Kissinger should be summoned to tell Congress about President Nixon's China trip.

"If the President wishes to inform the Congress he has every available channel to do so if Kissinger is not available," Rusk said. "If the President doesn't want to because of the delicacy of the situation, calling Mrs. Kissinger won't help."

But Harriman said the people are entitled to know what position Nixon plans to take in his talks with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

STEEL MILLS

mills and shipping departments continue working to handle left-over orders, the company said.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., ranked No. 2, announced that its Lackawanna, N.Y., plant with 14,600 workers, would be closed by midnight Saturday. There was no word on shutdowns at other Bethlehem plants.

Third-ranked Republic Steel said, "Some preparatory steps will be taken Friday and Saturday. We're going as long as we can."

Youngstown Ohio Sheet & Tube said Thursday: "We have a plan and that is tomorrow we will bank the furnaces here and in Chicago. Saturday we will begin topping the open hearth furnaces. From that point on to deadline, we run out the schedule set up in the past and turn down the smaller furnaces."

Also reporting gradual slow downs were Inland Steel Corp. of Chicago, and National Steel Corp.'s Great Lakes Works.

Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Cor.—ranked ninth with 17,500 workers in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia—began last Sunday to cut its production schedules, with plans to complete the closeout by this weekend.

The firm had attempted to bargain independently of the other nine major companies in hopes of getting a contract extension. The union, however, rejected the proposal.

Major firms reporting no plans for shutdowns as of early today were Jones & Laughlin, Armco and Allegheny Ludlum.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO United Steelworkers union called in 600 local leaders today for the crucial decision of whether to accept a contract offer or strike the nation's steel industry.

Major steel firms already were preparing to shut down in case of a strike, and the White House was watching the negotiations for the impact of a strike or wage settlement on the nation's troubled economy.

President Nixon has urged both sides to work against an inflationary settlement. A steel strike soon would result in job layoffs in other industries.

The strike deadline is midnight Saturday.

"We don't know at this point whether they will vote on a contract offer or a strike," said a spokesman for the union in advance of the meeting of leaders who make up its Basic Steel Industry Conference.

The union is bargaining for 350,000 workers in nine large steel firms and any settlement would become a pattern extended to another 150,000 workers in the industry.

Union negotiators, led by Steelworkers President I.W. Abel, and the industry bargaining team led by Vice Chairman R. Heath Larry of U.S. Steel Corp. were reported in hard bargaining Thursday after the industry's first solid contract offer.

"We really look at this as encouraging," said one informed union source.

But plans to begin shutting down blast furnaces in case of a strike were announced by U.S. Steel at Gary, Ind., Inland Steel in East Chicago, Youngstown Sheet & Tube in Ohio, Bethlehem Steel at Lackawanna, N.Y., Republic Steel and Wheeling-Pittsburgh. The latter firm is bargaining on its own.

Other major firms in the joint negotiations here are Armco Steel, Allegheny-Ludlum, National and Jones & Laughlin.

No details of the industry's contract offer could be learned from the secret talks.

FRB Head, Nixon Split on Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A distinct chill has settled over the once-warm relationship between President Nixon and Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

The rift involves a split over economic policy and if it widens the impact on the nation's economy could be great.

The Federal Reserve Board, as the nation's central bank, is responsible for supplying money to the economy. It can and does decide whether the country needs a period of tight or easy money. Nixon, through the federal budget, determines fiscal policy.

Simply put, Burns thinks the Nixon administration is not doing enough to control inflation, and he has missed few, if any, chances to say so publicly.

Nixon, say administration sources, is upset because Burns has made a public issue of their disagreement. The president appointed Burns to his 14-year term as Federal Reserve Chairman, but he can't fire him. So, in an apparent warning to Burns, White House aides privately told newsmen that the administration is considering restructuring the board, either doubling its membership or otherwise bringing it under executive control.

It is considered doubtful by many administration sources that reorganization will ever be formally proposed.

That leaves only the conflict, which has been brewing for months. It reached its bitterest point last week when Burns told the Senate-House Joint Economic Committee that inflation was proceeding at an "unacceptable and dangerous rate."

While Burns was testifying, White House officials, explaining a new rise in consumer prices, were telling newsmen the administration had made significant progress in moderating the rate of inflation.

The argument also revolves around the conduct of monetary policy.

Burns, the only Nixon appointee on it, went along with Nixon's plans to pursue tight money policies in 1969 and early 1970 to moderate inflation. Then, when the President wanted to give the economy more zip late last year, he said publicly he had a commitment from Burns that the Board would supply enough money to guarantee economic expansion.

It was at that point that the split over policy surfaced. Burns, who went to the board after serving as Nixon's No. 1 economic adviser, suddenly began advocating a wage and price review board and other proposals to control inflation.

In public speeches, and in testimony before congressional committees, he said tight money and budget surpluses, the two traditional methods of moderating rising prices, were not enough to do the job.

Nixon first moved in the direction Burns laid out.

But he stopped short of what Burns wanted, refusing, among other things, to set up a wage and price review board for the economy as a whole.

In response to Nixon's policies, the Federal Reserve expanded the money supply this year at a high rate but in recent weeks, it has slowed down that pace, saying it feared the sharp increases could lead to more inflation.

Meanwhile, the economic expansion sought by Nixon has fallen short of Administration expectations, with unemployment still high, and many officials in the administration tend to blame the Federal Reserve.

Much of the conflict between Burns and the White House traces to differing interpretations of economic indicators.

White House spokesmen have sought to play down monthly increases in unemployment and the rate of inflation, arguing that the long-term trends point to a moderation of rising prices and a peaking of the jobless rate. Gradual declines, they say, are sure to take place throughout 1971.

In one appearance before the Joint Economic Committee, Burns challenged the credibility of those claims.

Recovery was under way, he said, but he voiced doubts about its strength and said inflation is far from being conquered.

Ghost Town Is Sold

YELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The old ghost town of Rush (Marion County) has been sold to Donald F. Willsey of Mission Hills, Kan.

Willsey said he planned to develop the town as a tourist attraction by restoring the old mining town to its "natural atmosphere" and by putting in some sort of amusement park.

Willsey bought the 390-acre tract from Buffalo River Land Development Corp. of Yellville. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Showdown on Aid to Greek Military

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A showdown has been slated in Congress next Tuesday on cutting off all American aid to the military government of Greece.

The floor fight is set the day U.S. Ambassador Henry J. Tasca returns from Athens for closed-door questioning before a House subcommittee that has been critical of the junta's rule.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee already has voted to eliminate all $118 million in proposed aid to Greece until the junta restores democratic government.

A move to restore the aid is expected when the House takes up the $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization bill Tuesday.

Three of five congressmen who talked with top Greek rulers during visits to Athens last week say the cutoff could imperil American use of key military bases in the NATO nation.

"Our action, if we pursue this course, could very well alienate a very important NATO ally," said Rep. Ray Blanton, D-Tenn., one of the congressmen who conferred with Premier George Papadopoulos.

The foreign aid package contains a hedge that would allow Greek aid to be continued at the current $80-million-a-year level if President Nixon certifies it is in the "overriding requirements of the national security." An embargo on U.S. arms aid imposed after the junta seized control in 1967, was lifted last fall.

Meeting with Papadopoulos were Reps. Brock Adams, D-Wash.; Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine; Gus Yatron, D-Pa., and Blanton.

Their trip to Athens was paid by a Greek fraternal group, the Penepirotic Federation of America and Canada, which already had invited the congressmen to attend its convention in Greece before the cutoff question arose in the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Blanton quoted Premier Papadopoulos as saying his country is moving toward full constitutional government. But he said the junta strongman added, "We will not be dictated to from the outside." Kyros said Papadopoulos cautioned, "The Greeks have long known how to go it alone."

Kyros, a Greek-American, said he doesn't know how he will vote on the aid, since he favors a faster move toward free elections in Greece, but recognizes the country's importance to U.S. security in the Middle East.

ship Endeavour into lunar orbit, the face of the moon burst into full view, and suddenly commander David R. Scott was chattering in wonder.

They had studied photographs of the moon for months. But, Scott said, "when you get it all at once, it's just overwhelming."

"I hope over the next few days we can sort of get our minds organized and be a little more precise in what we are saying. I tell you this is absolutely mind-boggling up here."

"There are so many different things down there, and there is such a variety of land forms, and it's hard for the mental computer to sort it all out and give it back to you."

Here are some other bits of description given by the astronauts on the sights below:

The Sea of Crises: "It looks like a great desert across which we have had a number of dust storms. And in many places you can see the tracks or the swirls across the surface which looks like a great dust storm has been blowing."—Scott.

Approaching the Apennine Mountains and today's landing place: "The mountains jut up out of the ocean basin in great relief. This is indeed a spectacular view ... It's just unreal."—Scott.

Colors in the Sea of Serenity: "The area in front of us in three different shades. You can see in the upland and in the valley areas it is a darker color. But as you get farther in toward the center, it is lighter, a light powdering or dusting. And out at the edge it looks very light."—Astronaut Alfred M. Worden.

Unidentified mountains: "They appear to be smooth or rounded. But they are cratered and in many places rough in texture. We don't see any jagged peaks ... They don't look like the Alps or the Tetons or the San Juans or any other mountains we've ever seen on earth."—Scott.

Lockheed Loan Friends War on Filibuster

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After bustling and bartering their way around the Senate in a frustrated attempt to aid Lockheed Aircraft Corp., proponents are trying again to cut off extended debate and force a vote on the bill.

In the House, Lockheed aid was being taken up on the floor, with passage predicted by day's end.

For a few anxious hours Thursday, Lockheed backers in the Senate hustled about counting heads for a yes-or-no vote on guaranteeing $250 million in Lockheed loans. Opponents said they would stop their drawn-out debate if supporters agreed to such a vote instead of voting on the main $2-billion loan authority for any business whose financial problems threatened the national economy.

But supporters were drawn up short at the end of the day. Unable to muster the needed majority, they gave up and planned to raise a vote on limiting debate today. Twice earlier this week they tried and failed.

"This is a most significant development," Sen. William Proxmire told newsmen after maneuvering collapsed Thursday.

"When the bill is revealed for what it is they can't get a majority," said Proxmire, spokesman for Lockheed opponents.

Although the administration originally asked for specific aid only for Lockheed it later supported action by the Senate Banking Committee which broadened the bill to provide loan guarantees for any big firm threatened with collapse.

Unveiling their compromise proposal at a news conference, Proxmire and two other Lockheed opponents said the board bill was a fiction disguising the real issue of aid to Lockheed.

Sens. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the Banking Committee, and John Tower of Texas, ranking Republican on the committee, agreed to consider the offer and immediately began a head count.

Tennessee Ernie Files Suit

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Chancery Court Judge Nedlantz has issued a temporary injunction prohibiting Tennessee Ernie Ford Foods, Inc., from further use of the entertainer's name or likeness.

Ford has filed suit charging that the Nashville-based food franchise company failed to live up to a contract and owes him $125,000 in royalties.

In his suit Ford says he notified company officials last March that they had defaulted on their contract and that he wished to terminate the agreement. Ford says the company agreed to terminate the contract and to pay him, but has failed to do so.

Judge Lentz issued a temporary injunction against the company, pending a hearing on Ford's suit.

Steelworker's Life Hinges on Contracts

By DEE WEDEMEYER Associated Press Writer PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — If there isn't a strike, the Bill Skalniai will buy a car.

If it's a everyday word for Bill Skalniai, one of the 1.2 million steelworkers whose planning, in good part, hinges on a new contract every three years between their union and the big steel producers. The current pact expires Aug. 1 and no immediate settlement is in sight.

Every two weeks Bill Skalniai brings home $280. On this he and his wife, Alberta, and their two children live simply in a furnished two-story house in Pittsburgh. Even while the contract negotiations were going on the Skalniais went ahead and bought carpeting for their living room.

"I started worrying about a strike a year ago," explains Alberta, 35. "But sometimes you have to take a chance. If you don't, you'll never get them. Something else may come up and you have to use the money."

Alberta, who was a book-keeper before marriage, called an employment agency to see if part-time jobs would be available. The agency told her if there is a steel strike, no one would be hiring because the entire economy of Pittsburgh would be affected.

The Skalniais have no special savings put aside for the strike and Bill figures they could last a month on what they have.

Skalniai, 34, is the fourth generation of his family to work in the steel mills. As a scarfer at Jones & Laughlin's Blooming Mill, he uses a torch to remove defects from 1,500-pound steel billets.

They can tell the story of their married life in terms of the steel industry, day-to-day household crises and health problems.

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK

NEW YORK (AP) — Nostalgia being what it is today, it would not be surprising if a lot of parents joined their children in watching the revived version of "You Are There."

Kids probably will be hearing about how their parents were hooked on this CBS News recreation of historic events, broadcast on radio from 1945-50 and on television from 1953-57.

The first television version was done live from New York and was directed by Sidney Lumet with John Frankenheimer as his assistant. Both have gone on to become notable film directors.

The early stars included Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Lorne Greene and Rod Steiger.

"They were new faces when we used them," said Walter Cronkite, then as now anchorman. "A lot of them made their first television appearances with us. E. G. Marshall, Kim Stanley, Werver Von Klemperer, Milton Seltzer. Practically everyone on the stage in New York played for us. We were live on Sundays so they could do it."

Then, as in the Saturday morning series to be seen in the fall, great effort was spent to see that the shows were historically authentic.

The series is now being taped at the CBS Broadcast Center and episodes completed are those on Paul Revere, Amelia Earhart and the Alamo.

Cronkite said: "On the Paul Revere ride I set up the situation just as though we were covering it at the time. The reporters are in modern dress, but we go past them pretty quickly so that we don't dwell on that."

"Previously, the reporter was not shown at all. I was a little concerned about this change, but now that I've seen it I think it will work out fine."

Cronkite said the new series will be more authentic than before and will take advantage of all the techniques developed since the earlier version.

"I think it's an absolutely marvelous tool for teaching history. If anything annoys me today about education it's that history should be made dull," he said.

After their return, Mr. and Mrs. Vines will be at home at 122 West Avenue C in Hope.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LANE WOMMACK II

Miss Mary Ellen Holder became the bride of Richard Lane Wommack II at 5 p.m. Sunday, July 18, in St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church in Fayetteville.

Rain Cancels Vida Blue's Big Game

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Vida wasn't blue because of the postponement, but Thursday night's rain caused some long faces in the front office of the Baltimore Orioles.

An early evening storm washed out Baltimore's scheduled game against Oakland, dashing hopes that a crowd in excess of 40,000 would turn out to watch Vida Blue of the A's try for his 20th victory.

More than 26,000 fans braved the weather and waited almost an hour beyond the scheduled starting time before greeting the postponement announcement with a chorus of boos.

With an advance sale of more than 27,000, the Orioles would have moved more than 100,000 ahead of last year's totals under clear skies.

"I would have hated to have played and lost," said Manager Earl Weaver of Baltimore. "But going into a game, you always feel you're going to win, and I wish we could have played for the fans' sake."

Blue, the Oakland left-hander who has lost only three decisions and will try again for No. 20 in Cleveland tonight, gave the locker room interview the ho-hum treatment.

Asked if he were disappointed in not facing the defending world champions in his 20-victory bid, Blue said: "No, I've got a job to do. I don't care if I do it against a group of Little Leaguers."

Is there any undue pressure trying for victory No. 20?

"There's no pressure, nowhere. I'm just having a little fun, playing a little baseball, making a little money."

Does "little money" have any significance? It's been said your original contract for 1971 has been torn up and replaced by one calling for a higher salary.

"It could be the truth and it could be a lie. You're not going to find out from me."

What is Vida Blue going to do when the season is over?

"I haven't given it much thought, but I'm not a thinking man, no way."

Then, looking at questioning newsmen, Vida added:

"I plan to try and get a little rest from you know who. I'm going out in the countryside, so don't call my home phone."

In two previous starts for Oakland's American League Western Division leaders, Blue has beaten Baltimore's Eastern Division leaders 1-0 and 2-1.

Nicklaus, Palmer Favored

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — A one-day delay in the start of the $200,000 National Team Championship may have helped increase the chances of Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus successfully defending their title.

"It seems to get better every day," Nicklaus said today of an eye infection that has hampered him since the start of the Westchester Classic a week ago.

"It's not bothering me nearly as much as it did, and I've cut down on the number of pills I have to take and the amount of eye drops I have to use."

"The swelling has gone down. I still have a little trouble with my vision, but it's improving every day and really doesn't bother me that much any more."

Nicklaus, suffering from conjunctivitis, got another day to recuperate Thursday when a steady rain drenched the Laurel Valley Golf Club course, made it unplayable and forced officials to abandon the day's play.

Only four of the 64 two-man teams had started when play was held up in this event in which scoring is based on the better ball on each hole by each team.

Play was held up for about four hours while officials waited, hoping for a break in the weather. Play was abandoned shortly after noon when officials determined the course unplayable.

The 18-hole first round was rescheduled for today with another 18 set for Saturday and a double round of 36 scheduled for Sunday.

Palmer and Nicklaus already were listed as heavy favorites even before Nicklaus got an extra day to solve his health problems.

The two giants, the dominant figures in the game for a decade before Super Mex Lee Trevino shouldered his way into that elite company this year, have an unmatched history of success in team play.

They've won this title two of the last three times it has been played and teamed to win the World Cup Championship for the C&I States four times.

Each has won three times this year, with Nicklaus taking the PGA National title and Palmer last week's $50,000 first prize in the Westchester Classic. They rank second and third behind Trevino on the money list, Nicklaus with $167,000 and Palmer with $164,000.

Trevino, who managed to get a brief rest from his hectic schedule last week when he missed the cut for the final two rounds, has veteran Howie Johnson as a partner.

Some other outstanding teams include Gardner Dickinson and 59-year-old Sam Snead, former winners George Archer and Bobby Nichols, CBS Golf Classic champs Bert Yancey and Tom Weiskopf, brothers Dave and Mike Hill and Australian Bruce Devlin and New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles.

Jacksonville Bows to Arkansas

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Jesse Huggins threw a three hitter as the Arkansas Travelers blanked Jacksonville 3-0 Thursday night.

Huggins pitched the second shutout in a row against Jacksonville. Jackie Stripling scattered eight hits to shut out the Suns Wednesday night.

Huggins retired the first 14 batters before Doby Johnson lined a double into right field with two out in the fifth inning. He retired the Suns in order again in the sixth.

Jorge Roque got the Travelers off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning with a 390-foot home run off Jacksonville starter Tom Burkert.

The Travelers scored two more runs in the fourth inning. Arkansas moved 8½ games ahead of Shreveport in the Central Division of the Dixie Association. The Captains lost to Asheville 12-4.

In other Dixie action, Albuquerque defeated Amarillo 5-3 and Birmingham edged Savannah 6-4. San Antonio at Dallas-Fort Worth, Columbus at Memphis and Montgomery at Charlotte were rained out.

Reds Downed 3 to 1 by Padres

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are several National League batters who probably will disagree with Pete Rose, but the two-time batting champion of the Cincinnati Reds believes that Dave Roberts of the San Diego Padres is the best left-handed pitcher in the league.

Sparky Anderson, manager of the once-feared Big Red Machine, not only agrees with his hustling right fielder, but goes even further; he claims Roberts is the best pitcher—either right-handed or left-handed—that he has seen all season.

The hard-throwing hard-luck "Mr. Roberts," owner of the NL's best earned run average among starting pitchers, lowered his ERA to 2.15 Thursday night, throttling the Reds 3-1 with a sparkling five-hitter.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh battered the Los Angeles 8-4; St. Louis downed New York 3-1 in a game shortened to eight innings by rain, and Atlanta defeated San Francisco 4-2.

Detroit 10-9 Over Kansas City

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fred Scherman, workhorse of the Detroit Tiger bullpen, has another victory and the bruise to prove it.

Scherman took matters into his own hands Thursday night, getting hit by a pitch to force home Detroit's winning run in a 10-9 victory over Kansas City. It wasn't original but certainly effective.

Elsewhere in the American League Thursday, Milwaukee shut out Boston 3-0. California dropped Cleveland 7-2 and Chicago blanked New York 4-0. Oakland at Baltimore and Washington at Minnesota were rained out.

In the National League, St. Louis nipped New York 3-1 in a game ended by rain after eight innings, Atlanta tripped San Francisco 4-2, San Diego trimmed Cincinnati 5-1 and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 8-4 the other teams were not scheduled.

The Tigers had gone into the ninth inning against Kansas City trailing 9-6 despite a grand slam homer by Norm Cash and a pinch shot by Dick McAuliffe. Singles by Gates Brown and Al Kaline with one out got Detroit started.

After Willie Horton walked, loading the bases, Bill Freehan struck out and Tom Burgeimier relieved for the Royals. Cash was hit by a pitch, forcing in one run and then Jim Northrup singled for two more, tying the score. Then McAuliffe walked, loading the bases again.

That brought up Scherman, who was pitching for the 47th time this season. And the hurled was hit by another pitch, forcing in the Tigers' winning run. It was the second straight night that a four-run ninth inning gave Detroit a victory over KC.

Freddie Patek drove in four runs for the Royals with a double and a homer and KC's Lou Piniella extended his hitting streak to 18 games, longest in the American League this season.

Boston dropped its third straight against Milwaukee with Marty Pattin firing a four-hitter.

Bill Voss homered for the Brewers and winless Luis Tiant dropped his fifth game for the Red Sox. Tiant contributed to his own downfall with a pair of wild throws in the two-run Milwaukee second inning.

Chicago beat the Yankees for the fifth straight time with Tom Egan's two-run homer and a solo shot by Bill Melton, the AL's home run leader with 24, providing the offense.

Tom Bradley scattered nine hits for the victory, seventh in the last eight games for the suddenly hot Sox.

Billy Cowan and Ken McMullen cracked home runs, leading California past Cleveland.

The Angels bunched five straight hits for three runs in the third inning and then Eddie Fisher pitched scoreless relief after coming on in the fifth inning to nail down the victory.

PanAm Games to Begin Saturday

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CALI, Colombia (AP) — Flag waving and marching music open the VI Pan American Games today with the strain of competition to begin Saturday in this tense, heavily-guarded South American city.

The United States is expected to overwhelm 29 other nations in the "Western Hemisphere Olympics" with Cuba and Canada leading the parade of also-rans.

Tiny gymnast Linda Jo Metheny of Illinois, was scheduled to carry the U.S. flag into the 61,000 seat main stadium leading Uncle Sam's finest amateurs.

"It's a wonderful honor," said the 5-foot-2 winner of five gold medals in the 1967 Pan Am Games at Winnipeg, Canada. "It is especially a big step for a gymnastics performer."

Miss Metheny, 23, participated in the 1964 and 1968 Olympics at Tokyo and Mexico City. Once Cali is behind her, Lind Jo will point for the 1972 summer games at Munich.

"We're a little edgy due to a lack of sleep," said American John Smith of UCLA, the world's fastest 400-meter runner. "But, I guess everybody's in the same rocky boat."

The 3,058 athletes are housed behind barbed-wire fences in the overcrowded shabbily-constructed Pan American Village where only good food and the constitution of youth permit passable existence.

"I felt uneasy at first with the barbed wire and guards carrying rifles," said pretty U.S. fencer Marie Grompone, a schoolteacher from Rutherford, N.J. "You get used to it after a while ... almost."

Colombian officials have taken stout precautions against disturbances such as the uprising that killed 15 students in Cali earlier this year.

National police patrol downtown streets, the various stadiums and the Pan Am Village. Leftist students earlier protested the spending of millions on the games in an area that suffers varied problems and 20 per cent unemployment.

The Pan Am Games, held a year ahead of the Olympics, were born in 1951 at Buenos Aires where a small quickly-prepared U.S. team finished second to the host Argentines.

Ever since, the United States has dominated competition, Canada was second and Cuba third in 1967 at Winnipeg, but the 350-plus contingent from Castro's island may be the top challenger to the U.S. in the upcoming two weeks at Cali.

Frazier Would Fight Ali in LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier says he'd like to have his next title fight against Muhammad Ali in Los Angeles and he wants a $5 million guarantee or 65 per cent of the proceeds.

Ali, beaten by Frazier in New York when they first met, had suggested Houston's Astrodome as the site of their rematch, expected to be held next year.

During a brief stay in Los Angeles, Frazier told newsmen, "I had some of my first big fights here and I'd like to return. I'm in condition and ready."

Asked to comment on Ali's victory earlier this week over Jimmy Ellis, Frazier said, "I thought he looked great, but there was no pressure."

"I don't care how he clowns or what he says. Our fight will be decided in the ring."

Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Forum at nearby Inglewood, was a main financial backer of the first Frazier-Ali bout and it had been understood the rematch would be held under Forum sponsorship.

Frazier's views tended to substantiate that view since the champion usually has the final say on the site of a title bout.

Says Broken Rib Is a Good Omen

By EARL GERHEIM

Associated Press Sports Writer Washington Redskins Coach George Allen thinks a fractured rib might mean a winning football season ... even though it's his rib.

Allen was supervising a practice session Thursday when Leslie "Speedy" Duncan upended him while covering a receiver during a drill. Allen apparently was observing a drill on the other side of the field and didn't see the player.

Allen finished overseeing the workouts and completed his ritualistic two-lap jog around the practice field before team trainer Bobby Gunn discovered the injury during a routine examination.

Treated at a nearby hospital, the coach said the cracked rib might be "a good omen."

"I remember my first year with the Rams in 1966, I broke my hand and we won eight games," he recalled. A fractured rib should be worth two more victories than a broken hand, he added.

After unleashing a vociferous attack against Dallas Cowboys management and being embroiled in a deadlocked contract dispute, running back Duane Thomas has offered a solution to his troubles with the club. He wants to be traded.

Thomas emerged Thursday from a conference with Dallas officials but had no comment for sports writers.

However, club president Tex Schramm said the purpose of Thomas' visit "was to request that he be traded. If we can benefit the Cowboys and at the same time accommodate him we will be happy to do so."

Thomas has called Coach Tom Landry a "plastic man" and alleged discrimination because he is black. The Cowboys leading ground-gainer in 1970, Thomas has claimed Dallas would not have made it to the Super Bowl without his talents.

The West Texas State alumnus inked a three-year contract last year that he reportedly wants ripped up and replaced with one paying $80,000 a year.

The Kansas City Chiefs had news concerning a contract negotiation, and it was favorable. Defensive end Scott Lewis, the only Kansas City draft choice remaining to be signed, reportedly will sign his contract sometime this weekend. The 6-foot-5, 255-pound player from Grambling was the Chiefs' second-round pick.

Kimball Not Concentrating on Winning

By BILL WINTER

Associated Press Sports Writer LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Judy Kimball's not concentrating so much on winning, and that could mean trouble for the other gals in the $25,000 Bluegrass Invitational golf tournament.

The Ladies PGA event opened today at the par 72, 6,589-yard Hunting Creek golf club, with Miss Kimball seeking her third consecutive tour victory. She shared the LPGA four-ball championship title with Kathy Whitworth, the tour's leading money winner, two weeks ago, and last week won the O'Sullivan Ladies Open in Winchester, Va.

Before those wins, there was a nine-year victory drought. "I'd been thinking too much about just winning championships, rather than about just playing well," said the Sioux City, Iowa, product, who won the LPGA crown in 1962, then went into the winless streak.

Like Donna Caponi, the defending Bluegrass champion and a strong favorite locally, Miss Kimball likes the Hunting Creek layout. "I shot a 67 in one round here last year," she noted. "I like the way it plays. Certain golf courses you just have a feel for."

Miss Caponi, the tour's fifth-place money winner with $19,838 this season, said the course is "one of my all time favorites." Sharing the favorite's role entering the first round were Miss Whitworth, winner of $33,343 this season, and Sandra Palmer and Sandra Haynie, the second and third-leading money winners.

The winner of the three-day tournament will take home $3,750.

Petty Is Nearing $1 Million

ATLANTA (AP) — Richard Petty, an eyelash away from becoming stock car racing's first $1 million winner, munched on a sandwich of corn bread and steak Thursday and said:

"A chap can get ahead if he sticks to what he knows best. I know how to drive stock cars, as fast and as carefully as anyone around. But I'd be lost in anything else. So, I stick to what I know best."

A few moments later, the 33-year-old stock car racing ace took his familiar blue Plymouth out on the Atlanta International Raceway and qualified it third best for Sunday's $90,000 Dixie 500.

This mid-South classic could boost the star of the Petty racing clan across the $1 million barrier. He needs only $2,357 to become auto racing's third million dollar winner of record. The others are A.J. Foyt and Al Unser, both of whom have driven a variety of racing machines to accumulate their totals.

In Sunday's race, where he is the defending champion, Petty will start in the second row behind a front-running pair made up of pole winner Buddy Baker and Charlie Glotzbach.

Reserve Clauses Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The option and reserve clauses of professional sports will be investigated under a bill to exempt the National and American basketball associations from antitrust laws and allow them to merge.

"The two professional basketball leagues say that they are in severe financial difficulty," Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., one of the bill's sponsors said Thursday when it was introduced.

"Many of the players have serious criticisms of the owner-player relationship as it is presently constituted, especially the reserve and the option clauses and I am going to insist that these criticisms be resolved."

Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, suggested the Senate Judiciary Committee hear testimony from players and owners on the clauses, rules that bind a player to one team for life or give a club a player's service for one year following expiration of his contract. Tunney is a committee member.

Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., and Rep. Andy Jacobs, D-Ind., also sponsor the legislation that would give pro football the same degree of immunity from the laws that pro football has enjoyed for five years.

Bold Reason, who has been unbeatable in four straight races since the Triple Crown classics, renews his belated drive for the 3-year-old championship in thoroughbred racing this weekend.

The son of Hail to Reason-Lalun goes in the $138,200 American Derby over the grass course at Arlington in Chicago Saturday.

The William A. Levin-owned colt will be opposed by 10 rivals, including Gleaming, Northfields and Steal A Dance, who finished second, third and fourth, respectively, to Bold Reason in the $56,000 Lexington Handicap at Aqueduct July 17.

Also scheduled for Saturday are the $114,000 Sapling Stakes at Monmouth, the $50,000 Tidal Handicap at Aqueduct, the $50,000 Minuteman Handicap at Liberty Bell, the $85,000 San Diego Handicap at Del Mar and the $10,000 Rockette Stakes at Rockingham.

Bold Reason is top weighted at 124 pounds in the 1 1/4 mile American Derby to 123 for Gleaming and 122 for Mr. Pow Wow.

Since he finished Third, fifth and third in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, respectively, Bold Reason has reeled off four in a row, including the Hollywood Derby and the Lexington in his last two starts. He is the early favorite to make it five straight and pick up the winner's share of $81,950.

Q—How many toes does a deer have?
A—A deer runs on tiptoe. Its "foot" is really its two center toes. Only the tips of these toes touch the ground. The other two toes, called dewclaws, grow higher on the leg and have no use when the animal runs.

Pryor Against Loan Guarantee
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Wednesday he would vote against a $250 million loan guarantee by the federal government for Aircraft Corp. The bill proposing the guarantee is to come before the House Friday.
Pryor said the bill was "anti-competitive, antipaternalistic" and "anti-democratic."

OLD WAY RETURNS

Houston police will pick up truants on the street and deliver them to two new truancy centers that will be part of the Model Cities project here.

Q My car was stolen and has not been recovered. I purchased it a month ago for $1,000, but it is really worth much more than that. When I compute my theft loss deduction next year, can I base it on the worth of the car rather than what it cost me?

A No. Your loss would be the lesser of the cost or fair market value. In your case, if you had no insurance, your deduction would be $900—the $1,000 or cost, less the $100 limitation imposed by the law on a personal casualty or theft loss deduction. For more information, obtain a free copy of IRS Publication 547, Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts, by sending a postcard to your IRS District office.

Q I pay the premiums on my son's medical insurance. Are these premiums considered part of the total support I furnished when I determine if I can claim him as a dependent?

A Yes. Medical insurance premiums are included as an item of support, although benefits under such policies are not.

Q Can a self-employed individual set up his own retirement plan?

A Yes. If you are in business for yourself, you may deduct your contributions to a self-employed retirement plan, provided that the contributions are based on earned income and certain requirements are met. You can work in your business either full or part-time.
For details send a postcard to your local IRS District office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 560, Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals, and 566, Questions and Answers on Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals.

They Believe in Each Other

You get a wonderfully warm feeling when you see kids stop scrapping, patch up their differences and start sharing for a change. Often they become friends for life.

Doubtless you get the same warm feeling when you see old friends greet each other after a long separation. They hang on by hand as they slap backs and maybe brush away a tear or two.

There is nothing quite like a good friend; someone to trust and believe in. True friendship evolves from mutual belief in and respect for each other. It is a silent answer to the unspoken question. A being there without really having to be.

A doing without being asked to do. A giving without questioning why, how much will it cost, or what will I get out of it.

True friendship means automatically becoming God's Good Samaritan without pondering the consequences.

Try sharing laughter with your friend.
Share an ice cream cone. Better yet, share God.

So They May See

Psalm 91

So They May Hear

HE THAT DWELLETH in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

3. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6. Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

BECAUSE THOU hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10. There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13. Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Speculation That Chou May Visit UN

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

President Nixon's China initiative is provoking speculation along some spectacular lines. One possibility now being seriously discussed in some quarters is that Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China will visit the United Nations in New York before President Nixon goes to Peking.

Another intriguing line of speculation is that Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations may be persuaded to change his mind about retiring at the end of this year because of the dramatic possibilities ahead.

Relatively soon after the 26th U.N. Assembly opens in September, it will come to grips again, as it has for two decades, with this question: which Chinese shall sit in China's seat, the Communists of Peking or the Nationalists of Formosa? It looks as if Peking is as good as voted in already.

Last year, for the first time, Peking won a simply majority, 51-49. It was not enough because the United States had successfully defended once again the principle that the question was "important" and thus required a two-thirds vote of the assembly. But the 26th session begins to look like an entirely new ball game.

This year the 18 nations sponsoring Peking's membership have moved early to put in their resolution, adding to it that Peking also should occupy China's Security Council seat along with the seats in the other U.N. bodies. But the resolution calling for important-question treatment has not yet been submitted.

This means that the membership question is ahead on the

"DEPOSIT" IS INSURANCE FOR CHANGED MIND

Dear Helen:
Speaking of vasectomies, the last argument against them may have been won with the announcement that some 70 women have had "frozen sperm babies."

Heretofore, a few husbands refused to have this simple, safe operation, saying that sometime in the future they might want more children. Now, they can simply put on deposit enough frozen sperm to take care of this eventuality. Artificial insemination does the rest.

As man who has had a vasectomy, I can vouch for its agenda and will stay there unless the Assembly is persuaded to vote for a change, which seems unlikely at this time. In the past the Americans have had their friends introduce the important-question measure for them, but such help may now be harder to come by. In some respects the Americans pulled the rung from under their friends in the Pacific area—friends like Japan and the Philippines—by the secret contacts with Peking.

One might even ask why the sponsors of the Peking membership were so eager to get their resolution in early this year, and why the United States has done nothing to assure priority for its important-question defense of the Chiang Kai-shek seat.

In the first place, it would take only a relatively few vote shifts this year to defeat the important-question measure and thus it would be out of the way in any case. In the second place, if the two-thirds vote is not required, Chiang Kai-shek's regime has had it. Peking will be voted in. And the betting now is that the United States will not even vote against Peking, but simply abstain.

The way then could be clear for Chou to visit the United Nations and dramatize spectacularly Red China's victory after two decades.

success. If anything, it has increased my libido. I know it has done wonders for my wife!—MICK (FATHER OF THREE)
Dear Mick:

I understand that several men have already made deposits in the frozen sperm bank, against the possibility that they might want more children after their vasectomies. So far, not one has reported a change of mind.—H. Dear Helen:

Is marriage on the way out? We don't think so. As two who love being married, may we give our views?

As we see it, marriage is not the problem. Rather, it's the attitude with which people enter it. If they expect one continuous honeymoon, they are headed for trouble. It doesn't take long to uncover each other's faults and analyzing them only covers up all the good traits that drew them together.

We believe that if people would stop examining the other person and instead evaluate themselves, they'd keep so busy they'd have little time for criticism. They should realize they can irritate as well as be irritated by petty actions.

It's strange that people will generally challenge a goal like business success, or winning awards, but when the challenges of marriage present themselves, they admit defeat without a decent effort. Marriage is worth every struggle, for the rewards are great.

Many also find it easier to forgive a friend or even a pet than a mate. Why be so much harder on the one you love?

We personally believe that if love is the motivating factor in your life (a steady love that builds and nurtures) you will find that it comes easier to praise than to criticize, to show understanding and encouragement and, most of all, respect even though you don't always agree.

We know it can work, for marriage has worked for us over 17 years. We married young and have shared problems, climbed hurdles, realized dreams. And we've had a tremendous lot of fun along the way.—TWO OF YOUR READERS

Pentagon File Belittles the Congress

—Member Charges

By JAY PERKINS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — An unofficial House panel probing the Pentagon papers has heard repeated testimony that Congress abdicated its responsibility to maintain a check and balance on the president's handling of foreign affairs.

One House member suggested Congress be abolished if it could not live up to its responsibilities. And another said the American public should be informed Congress is not doing its job.

The testimony came during a three-day hearing called by 17 antiwar congressmen to probe the 47-volume Pentagon papers and what they showed about the government's inner workings. The documents traced origins of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Jonathan Mirsky, a Dartmouth professor and codirector of the East Asia Center, told the panel Congress doesn't know about important foreign-policy decisions because it doesn't want to accept there responsibility accompanying the knowledge.

"It's not that you have a need to know," he said. "It's that you don't want to know. What you really need is a desire to know. And you might not want to stay in Congress any more if you knew" the results of the policy, he added.

Daniel Ellsberg, a former Defense Department researcher who says he leaked the war documents to newsmen, said Congress should press the executive department for details of the Cambodian and Laotian invasions.

"When will Congress decide it has the need to know what planning went on in the Cambodian invasion or the Laos invasion?" he asked. "There's no question there was great deception."

Ellsberg, who helped prepare the Pentagon papers and is under indictment after being accused of possessing copies, said Congress bears responsibility for the Vietnam war but not as much as the President. "The responsibility of those lied to is not as great as those doing the lying," he said.

The former Rand Corp. employee suggested Congress consider impeaching officials who refuse to disclose information on foreign policy or those who lie about foreign affairs.

He urged consideration of impeachment proceedings against Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and the secretaries of the Army and Air Force.

"Congress has in effect signed over its responsibilities," he said, adding "congressmen seem to almost act out this role of helplessness" and are not serving their constituents.

U.S. Put Down Revolt in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States broke up an attempted military coup against the late South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem by threatening to break relations and cut off economic aid if rebels shelled the Saigon palace, former U.S. ambassador Elbridge Durbrow said today.

The retired career diplomat said the incident took place Nov. 11-12, 1960, three years before Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, were deposed and killed in another coup.

Durbrow said Diem had been giving serious consideration to U.S. requests that he name his brother an ambassador or send him abroad for some assignment. Diem probably would have done this, Durbrow said, if it had not been for the unsuccessful coup attempt headed by Col. Nguyen Chanh Thi.

Nhu had become a "public-relations detriment to the Diem regime, the former ambassador said.

The coup caused Diem to "change his whole position and tighten things up very much around the country and he obviously felt he had to have his brother's advice in this operation," Durbrow said in a radio broadcast sponsored by the American Security Council.

At the time of the coup, Durbrow said, he did everything he could to help Diem and "I might have kept him from being bumped off."

He said he was awakened at the U.S. Embassy in Saigon at 3 a.m. by an attack on the presidential palace and made his way to the Cholon district.

The rebel forces led by Thi reached Durbrow by telephone from Tan Son Nhut airport, told him they had five howitzers ready to fire on the presidential palace and asked him to urge Diem to step down.

Durbrow said he informed the rebels that if they fired they undoubtedly would kill some Americans living within two blocks of the palace.

"I said we would break relations with you and cut off aid if you took this action," the diplomat recalled. He said this helped save the situation.

Durbrow noted that he had been quoted in the formerly top-secret Pentagon papers as suggesting a replacement for Diem.

The ambassador, who served in Saigon from 1957 until May 1961, said the part of his message which was not quoted read: "We believe the United States should at this time support Diem as the best available Vietnamese leader, but should recognize that the overriding U.S. objective is a strong anti-Communist Vietnamese government which can command loyal and enthusiastic support of the widest possible segment of the Vietnamese people and is able to carry on an effective fight against Communist guerrillas."

OUTSPOKEN critic of union politics, attorney Kenneth J. Yablonski has charged the Labor Department with bias in favor of incumbent union leadership. Yablonski is the son of the late Joseph A. Yablonski, union dissident murdered, along with his wife and daughter, after an unsuccessful campaign for presidency of the United Mine Workers.

More State Office Space Discussed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers told a news conference Thursday that the need for more state office space had been discussed at meetings of his cabinet and that the possibility of buying a building had been considered.

Bumpers said he has told the Department of Planning to determine what buildings might be available for sale to the state for office space.

He also said that he was interested in some sort of zoning code that would protect the view of the state Capitol building from the erection of any high-rise buildings nearby.

The Planning Department also has been instructed to look into the possibility of such a code with other officials of the state and the city of Little Rock, he said.

Bumpers said that the prospect of purchasing the National Old Line Building, which is across the street from the Capitol, had been mentioned "by someone" in one cabinet meeting, but that he knew of no further explorations of the possibility.

Robert Lowry, executive vice president of National Old Line Insurance Co., said Wednesday that the building was not for sale and that no discussions had taken place regarding sale of the seven-story building to the state.

Bumpers Evades Questions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers evaded reporters' questions Thursday about whether he might run against Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., next year.

Mills Pushed for President by Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Dale Bumpers said this morning that because Wilbur D. Mills is from Arkansas should not preclude his being the next president.

Bumpers said this country needs a hero desperately and "I think Mills is that man."

The governor's comments came at a breakfast here attended by more than 300 Democrats to boost the uncandidacy of Mills, the Arkansas Democrat who is chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee. Mills did not attend.

Mills repeatedly has said he is not a presidential candidate, but has said he would accept the Democratic nomination if it were offered.

Today's event was labeled a planning breakfast for a much larger Mills appreciation rally on Aug. 26, but the breakfast turned into a pep rally for Mills.

The breakfast was sponsored by Arkansas' constitutional officers, all Democrats, and members of the Arkansas congressional delegation.

Each of those attending was asked to take 30 tickets and sell them for $5 each for the Aug. 26 rally.

Bumpers called Mills "the most uncandidate I have ever seen."

The governor said that the beginning of Mills' campaign for president was much like his for governor and Bumpers said "he is starting out with 3 per cent more votes than I did."

"Never before have our people been in search of someone or something to hold on to, someone who will transcend sections, parties, business, labor, young and old, and we believe that man is Mills," said Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., the only member of the Arkansas congressional delegation to attend.

Lt. Gov. Bob Riley said Arkansas delegates to the National Democratic Convention in Miami next year should go with the idea of getting Mills nominated as a favorite son and keep pushing to get him the party nomination.

Joe Purcell, state Democratic party chairman, said this had to be done before the delegation goes to Miami. He said there were 39 congressmen representing 23 states already backing Mills.

Letting their imaginations out, way out, some of the city's artist residents have come up with a striking combination of home decoration and outdoor art. Super-Graphics, they call the stripes, circles, stars, numbers and other simple forms splashed on walls, doors and occasionally whole houses.
